Diabetes No Longer Feared

Peculiar Action of a Remarkable Remedy in

There is no need to feel any alarm over the symptoms of diabetes. This disease is apt to be purely a digestive trouble, and for this reason the liver is held largest organ of the body, and is not only a mass of thread-like blood vessels, but throughout its entire fabric is intimately associated with the digestive system.

The thing to do is to so stimulate the action of this myriad of blood vessels that each cellular part selects its own essential nutriment by healthy and judicious divine discretion. This is accomplished by S. S. S. the most potent, the most active and the most naturally stimulating blood medicine known. You do not need purgatives; do not be alarmed at the presence of sugar nor of so-called sediment.

Just stick to S. S. S. and hear in mind that this celebrated remedy has such a specific stimulating action on the local cells of the liver as to preserve their mutual welfare and give a proper relative assistance, each cell to the other.

MINISTERS MUST HAVE PROTECTION

Being Mauled by Suffragettes.

Cardiff, Wales, May 21.—The British Cabinet ministers are exposed to such risks of being mauled by militants at public meetings that hereafter they are likely to refuse to attend unless those in charge of the meetings are prepared to guarantee their personal safety. Because such assurances would not be given him the Home Secretary, Ri. Hon. Reginald McKenna, did not appear at the Weish disestablishment and free church conference this afternoon, although he was announced as one of the speakers. It is understood that the authorities learned of a suffragette plot to attack the Home Secretary at the conference by a method which would not only Jeopardize his life, but the lives of the delegates as well. The Home Secretary, however, addressed a large meeting this evening, a Scotland Yard detective occupying a seat near him on the platform. Elaborate precautions were taken to prevent the admission of suffragettes.

Mr. McKenna concluded his address by warning the militants that their methods would never succeed in frightening or worrying the government into giving the franchise to women.

"By their action," he said, "they can bring but discredit to their cause and punishment upon themselves."
